CHAE SUNG-PIL

Born in 1972 in Korea, Chae Sung-Pil studied Oriental Painting at the Seoul National University before moving to France to pursue a Master's degree in Art. He is currently enrolled in a Doctoral program in Art at the University of Paris. Chae Sung-Pil is known for his use of soil to create images of landscapes. This material expresses his childhood memories and nostalgia. The artist's choice of media is extremely important to his work: he travels all over the world collecting various types of soil and sand, using them to create his own paint that he mixes with gold and silver dust. He employs a specific "spilling" method in which he drips water onto canvas to create a poetic depiction of land and earth. Chae Sung-Pil aims to stir a sense of nostalgia and longing for the past within the people who admire his works. His art has been exhibited worldwide in numerous solo and group exhibitions, as well as in several art fairs, including the KIAF in Seoul and Art Shanghai. He has won several prizes in France.

LEE JAEHYO

Born in 1965 in Hapchen, Korea, Lee Jaehyo graduated from Hong-ik University (Seoul) with a Bachelor's degree in Art. His work combines natural materials such as wood, branches and leaves with nails or steel bars, integrating them into three-dimensional pieces. The artist likes to say that he works "with things which are unattractive, useless, displeasing and ordinary" and explores them to reveal their often neglected, intrinsic beauty. The results are breathtaking organic constructions, both pensive and dynamic. Lee Jaehyo's talent is rooted in a unique combination of Korean artistic traditions of today and yesteryear. He has held many solo exhibitions in Korea, Japan, China, the United Kingdom and the United States. He has won a number of awards, including the Grand Prize at the Osaka Triennial (1998), the Young Artist of the Day Award presented by the Korean Ministry of Culture (1998) and the Prize of Excellence in the 2008 Olympic Landscape Sculpture Contest in Beijing.
